

Understanding Your Child's Behaviour

There is no such thing as a perfect parent or a perfect child and parenting can be hard and it's about recognising that it is hard

We know that life is not normal at the moment due to Coronavirus however we recognise that parents/carers still need information to support their child. The School Nursing Service offer free behaviour workshops to parents and carers of children aged 4-19 years.

We cannot deliver face to face workshops at the moment because of social distancing guidance. We can offer these sessions virtually. We are offering video sessions via Microsoft Teams which is a safe application used by the NHS.

This workshop explores:

- The reasons why children behave in the way they do!
- What causes poor behaviour
- How to encourage positive behaviour
- Working together with your child's school
- Information about our parenting programmes & the Walsall Way of Parenting
- Accessing 'Early Help' to support your child or teenager

The Sessions will be offered on:
